(ENTER A CAVEAT)

Use this form to apply to stop an application for a grant of representation for up to 6 months. This is also known as 'entering a caveat'.

For court office use:
Case Reference:	PRO/
Date Filed:

You may want to stop an application when:

- You think the person who made the will was being influenced by someone else or was not able to make their own decisions.
- You think someone interfered with the will or forged it.
- There is a more recent will
- The will was not properly signed and witnessed
- The person applying for probate refuses to share a copy of the will with you
- You are in dispute with the person applying or you think they are not suitable to carry out the instructions in the will.
- You think the person applying is not eligible to apply if there is no will (see 'Who can apply and how can I apply?')
- You are entitled to apply but have not been included in the application
- The person who died got married or entered into a civil partnership after the will was signed.

These are the most common reason, but there may be others too.

You should always try to come to an agreement with the person applying for probate before you stop their application.

You may want to talk to a legal practitioner or the citizens' advice bureau for legal advice.

You may have to pay legal costs if you stop an application without good reason.

Once your application is received, it takes one working day to stop applications in progress.

If an application is approved the same day you make the request, it may not be stopped.
